												Upon completion of this course, the students will have knowledge of the fundamental scientific principles behind the production and use of renewable and alternative energy sources. They will be well versed in the benefits and consequences of expanding the use of renewable and alternative energy. Students will also discover how the issues of climate change intersect with the current energy crisis. Furthermore, students will gain perspective on current uses of alternative and renewable energy on multiple scales (including the individual homeowner). Most importantly, students will gain an understanding of how the growing energy demands of our rapidly increasing population will impact future energy use. Finally, this course will allow students to personally discover how to make energy conscious decisions in their future employment sectors.
